Dr Carly Sawatzki is a teacher-educator with expertise in curriculum and pedagogy across upper primary Mathematics, middle school Economics & Business, and senior school Business Studies.

Working across these discipline areas is critical to her key area of research, education for financial capability.

Carly is dedicated to involving school leaders and teachers in professional learning that promotes critical thinking and conversation, inspires innovation, and transforms pedagogical practice. Carly writes and presents for academic, teacher, and preservice teacher audiences.