

Webinar 14: Autism Series - Webinar 1 of 2 - Pedagogical
Approaches to Help Children with Autism Thrive
Professor Beth Sagers, QUT

Beth Sagers is a Professor in The Centre for Inclusive Education (C4IE) and a member of the Faculty of Creative Industries, Education and Social Justice. Beth has educational practice and research experience in autism, inclusive education, disability, social emotional competence, wellbeing, and challenging and complex needs. She has engaged in research in schools that informs policy and practice including leading the national Autism Educational Needs Analysis.

She has published over 70 journal publications, books, book chapters and research reports and is an active researcher in Program 2: The School Years for The Cooperative Research Centre for Living with Autism (Autism CRC).
<http://www.autismcrc.com.au/>.