

Jonathan Carpenter – Additional bio

Jonathan is a husband and father of three children. Jonathan thrives where there are opportunities to grow and develop team, working closely with middle leaders to enhance school culture through the development of community, and improve educational outcomes for students.

Jonathan is passionate about raising leaders to serve in education in the future. As a previous Head of Middle School, he is currently studying a Masters of Education - Leadership, and is also doing the Arrow Executive Leadership training program. He is keen to keep learning so that he can serve more effectively, in all areas of his professional and personal life.